Abstract

According to Oxford Advanced Learner's dictionary Brain Drain is "the movement of highly skilled and qualified people to a country where they can work in better conditions and earn more money". Brain-drain can also be named as "human capital flight" because it resembles the case of capital flight, in which mass migration of financial capital is involved. The Government of India estimated that there are 30 million Indian Diaspora spread across the world. The 30 million Indian human resource which is working for the developed countries are highly skilled. We are generating valuable human capital with our valuable money which is collected from the tax payers. But the tragedy is we are sending our skilled human resource for the development of developed countries. India is becoming a major supplier of human capital for the advanced economies. India is sending large numbers of these specialists compared to other important origin countries. Brain drain is the current socio-economic problem of our country. This paper mainly focuses on socio-economic aspects of brain drain.

Introduction

According to Oxford Advanced Learner's dictionary Brain Drain is "the movement of highly skilled and qualified people to a country where they can work in better conditions and earn more money". Cambridge Online Dictionary defines "when large numbers of educated and very skilled people leave their own country to live and work in another one where pay and conditions are better". Brain-drain can also be named as "human capital flight" because it resembles the case of capital flight, in which mass migration of financial capital is involved. Brain drain is usually regarded as an economic cost, since emigrants usually take with them
