IQAC Policy Statement

Under the standards and directives of higher bodies in the sector, the establishment of an internal quality assurance cell at the college level does play a catalytic role in its sustainable development. Internal Quality Assurance Cell of SEMT's, Moinuddin Harris College of Arts, A.E Kalsekar College of Commerce and Management was established on September 20, 2016, in accordance with a resolution of the NAAC, Bengaluru, and has since undergone periodic revisions. From curriculum creation to establishing and carrying out institutionally unique policies and activities for the benefit of the student community and teaching fraternity as well, it works for and enables academic quality initiatives at the college level in all its aspects. It also seeks to get ready for internal quality assessment and accreditation procedures for all of its stakeholders and constituent parts.

In accordance with the aforementioned directive, IQAC resolves to work for the academic growth and development of the college under the direction of the parent institute, the CDC, and the principal, with the cooperation of the entire college personnel. It needs to start in order to encourage everyone to engage in diverse academic practices:

I. Creating the college's annual academic calendar;

II. Scheduling meetings with department and committee heads to discuss

1. the introduction of timely, pertinent skill-based courses;

2. academic initiatives such as the use of projectors, and the creation of e-content.

3. Starting the following initiatives to achieve goals more effectively signing of MOUs/ Linkages, etc.

4. creating a research profile for faculty and students, conducting workshops on IPR and research methodology, and engaging in incubation and innovation activities

5. carrying out outreach and extension programmes,

6. the coordination of joint efforts with other organisations or authorities,

7. support and coordination with the library to make its resources accessible to stakeholders, scheduling of library orientation events for students

8. creation of a corridor with alumni to enlist their financial and in-kind assistance and strengthen relationships with them further;

9. including students in college committees that make decisions,

10. using unconventional methods in activities

11. Planning extracurricular and cocurricular activities at the departmental and committee (college) level
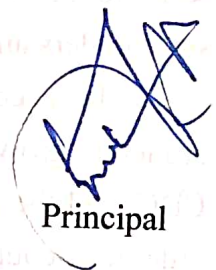

- ➢ To go through assessment and accreditation processes by internal organisations like AAA and external organisations like NAAC
- ➢ To strengthen feedback and review mechanisms and action taken on all activities initiated.
- ➢ To organise workshops, seminars, conferences, and training programmes for and with fellow teaching and non-teaching staff members.

IQAC intends to always work in a democratic manner, with appropriate mechanisms for review and feedback present throughout the entire process. In the event that it is necessary, it will continue to operate in ascending order for the benefit of academic progress and the expansion of college as a whole in all of its nooks and crannies.
