IQAC Initiatives on Research Mobilization (2017-18 to 2021-22)

The Research Committee planned to conduct Avishkar activity specifically in such a way that motivated students to plunge into the activities under this scheme and also to register for competitions conducted under the Avishkar Annual Research Convention held by University of Mumbai.

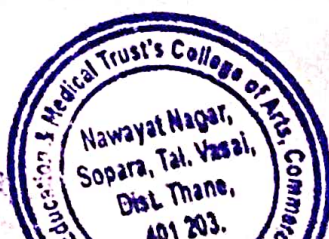

In terms of its quality initiative effort, IQAC views the college's research component as one of the crucial components. This might become a reality through the creation of a special mechanism; this is how the Research Committee is set up. Regular communication between the IQAC and this committee encouraged the teaching profession and the student community to take the initiative in building their own research profiles.

The Research Committee intended to carry out the Avishkar activity in a manner that would encourage students to participate in the program's activities and to sign up for contests held in conjunction with the University of Mumbai's Avishkar Annual Research Convention.

The faculty's involvement in research has been impressive: one faculty member filed for a patent, nine workshops on research methodology were held, three workshop on intellectual property rights (IPR) and innovation was held, 52 research papers were published at the national and international levels, and faculty members also contributed to three books.
